

ABSTRACT

MESSAGE MANAGEMENT SYSTEM AND METHOD

- 5 A method and system for routing messages comprising: converting a message received from a sender into an internal format comprising at least an attribute part and a data part, writing into said attribute part data extracted from said received message; and routing said converted message in dependence on the data in said attribute part.

10

009272US-000101